RINKØBING • SKJERN CULTURE & SPORTS CENTRE, SKJERN, DENMARK

A diverse range of activities converge here, from large-scale sporting events to private celebrations. It serves as a cultural hub for a multitude of people - a place where the entrance warmly welcomes all visitors.

The space is adorned with large and impressive ring chandeliers, each consisting of two rings with diameters of Ø310 cm (outer) and Ø290 cm (inner). The frames are painted red, and between these two rings, 32 fixtures rated at 100W are strategically positioned along the braces.

These chandeliers create a unique atmosphere, contributing to the communal areas' distinctive identity and warmth. The design was executed by architect Rudi Udi Jørgensen, and the center itself was developed by the architectural firm C.F. Møller.
